Labour Law & Business Restructuring: Assessing Ancor and Gribbles

On 9 March 2005, the High Court delivered its judgments in two much-anticipated and high-profile cases. The decisions in both Ancor and Gribbles have significant implications for how labour law regulates business restructuring, how (and how well) it protects the accrued interests of employees, and how the parties to certified agreements use them to address these issues for themselves.

We are delighted to announce that our guest speaker will be:

Mr Justin Bourke

A leading member of the Victorian Bar practising in industrial and labour relations law, Mr Bourke appeared before the High Court as counsel in both Ancor and Gribbles.
